

Figure 5: Comparison of the performance of the proposed model and the baseline model in the task of sentiment classification. The figure shows the performance of the proposed model and the baseline model across different languages and models. The proposed model consistently outperforms the baseline model across all languages and models.

